Stockbridge, Ga. (PRWEB) July 19, 2012 -- AAA Restoration Company provides fire, smoke and water damage clean-up and restoration services to homeowners in the Metro Atlanta and Metro Nashville communities. As an extension of its efforts to help homeowners, AAA Restoration Company formed Brooke's Closet, a not-for-profit organization that collects and donates clothing, toiletry items and school supplies to families devastated by fire.

“Seven families in my Henry County neighborhood lost their homes to fire. Inspired to help my neighbors, AAA Restoration Company started a clothing and donation drive that became Brooke's Closet. At AAA Restoration Company, our mission is to help homeowners rebuild their homes and lives after a fire. Brooke's Closet facilitates rebuilding for families by providing the basic items they need most urgently,” stated Mandy Mode, Director of Marketing and Media Relations with AAA Restoration Company. AAA Restoration Company is a family-owned business with an office in Nashville and headquarters in Stockbridge, Ga.

“I lost my childhood home to a fire so I understand the heartbreak homeowners feel. Because stewardship is a core value at AAA Restoration Company, we are committed to helping families displaced by fire. We use our resources and influence to improve our Atlanta and Nashville communities. Through our volunteer and sponsorship initiatives, we support the neighborhoods where our clients and customers live and work,” commented Marisa Robertson, owner and founder of AAA Restoration Company. More information about AAA Restoration Company and its core values can be found on-line at www.aaarestorationco.com.

“Our staff of restoration industry professionals is passionate about service excellence and dedicated to bettering their community. Brooke's Closet is an opportunity for us to share their excellence and dedication with neighbors in need,” said Brandon Robertson, President of Business Development with AAA Restoration Company.
