

Get Ready for Spring Storm Season with Advice from AAA Restoration Company

AAA Restoration Company offers homeowners advice on spring storm season. AAA Restoration Company is a family-owned fire and water restoration company headquartered in Stockbridge, Georgia with an office in Nashville, Tennessee.

Stockbridge, GA (PRWEB) April 29, 2012 -- From fires caused by lightning strikes to water and structure damage caused by a fallen tree, storms cost 2.5 billion dollars in property damage annually. Insurance industry author and Distinguished Professor of Law at Rutgers University Jay M. Feinman says in his book Delay Deny Defend, "Most Americans are only a fire in the home away from having the wealth, the comfort and the lifestyle accumulated over a lifetime of work wiped out." Although the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration is predicting a tame 2012 storm season, homeowners should be reminded that Mother Nature has a mind of her own.

"To prepare for storm season, survey the trees around your home and remove any dead ones near a structure. Your insurance carrier will try to prove a tree was dead prior to falling and deny your claim as a pre-existing hazard," warns Mike McCune, Vice-president and Chief Estimator at AAA Restoration Company. "If you experience storm damage, it is in your best interest to work with clean-up and restoration professionals to assess the wreckage to your home. Smoke and water are particularly invasive because the devastation can be on-going. Water catastrophes lead to microbial growth and resulting health hazards if they are not mitigated quickly. Smoke and soot will cause secondary damage if not treated properly." AAA Restoration Company provides fire, smoke and water damage clean-up for the Greater Atlanta and Greater Nashville communities. "Don't assume that you have to work with the company that your insurance carrier suggests. Make the right choice for you. An independent contractor's obligation is to you as the homeowner and not to the insurance company. Choose a licensed contractor specializing in disaster clean-up and reconstruction. Your insurance company likely doesn't guarantee the repairs so make sure you work with restoration professionals willing to offer a warranty on your home." AAA Restoration Company offers a lengthy and comprehensive warranty on all projects. AAA Restoration Company can be found on-line at www.aaarestorationco.com.
